LONDON v. NEW ALBERTSONS, INC., et al.
Case No. 08-cv-1173 H-CAB

Plaintiff, Raymond W. London ("Plaintiff"), hereby files this response to the separate motions to dismiss filed in the above matter by defendants New Albertson's, Inc. ("Albertson's") and Cerberus Capital Management (California), LLC ("Cerberus").

I. INTRODUCTION

On May 29, 2008, Plaintiff filed a class action complaint in San Diego Superior Court against Albertson's and Cerberus alleging their violation of, among other state law claims, California's Confidentiality of Medical Information Act [Cal. Code Civ. Proc., §§ 56, et seq.] (the "CMIA") in connection with said defendants' utilization, sharing and sale of inadequately "anonymized" confidential patient medical and prescription drug information to pharmaceutical companies – via third party "data mining" companies such as IMS Health, Inc., and/or Verispan, Inc. (Complaint, ¶ 7).

On July 1, 2008, Plaintiff availed himself of the ministerial procedure provided under Cal. Code Civ. Proc., § 474, to include Save Mart Supermarkets ("Save Mart") as an additional named defendant pursuant to San Diego Superior Court form CIV-12. See Exhibit A hereto.<sup>1</sup> The following day, Albertson's and Cerberus removed this action to federal court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1453 and 1332. (Docket Entry # 1).

Thereafter, on July 10, 2008, Albertson's filed a motion to dismiss principally claiming that the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act sanctions its sale of partially de-identified patient medical information to pharmaceutical companies irrespective of California's CMIA. See, e.g., Albertson's Mot., at pp. 11-12 (Docket Entry #'s 5-7). Defendant Cerberus separately moved to dismiss arguing that its divestiture of its Albertson's retail grocery stores and

1 their on-site pharmacy operations in California (primarily to defendant Save Mart) negates its

4 II. ARGUMENT

5 A. DEFENDANTS MOTIONS TO DISMISS ARE MOOT INASMUCH AS 6 PLAINTIFF HAS FILED A FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT

7 Rule 15(a)(1)(A), of the Fed. R. Civ. Proc. permits a party to substantively amend its
 8 pleading once as a matter of course before being served with a "responsive pleading." It is well
 9 settled that a motion to dismiss is not a "responsive pleading" within the purview of Rule 15(a) and,
 10 therefore, does not preclude plaintiff London from now amending his complaint to cure certain
 11 deficiencies raised in the defendants' motions to dismiss and, thus, streamline this action. Allen v.
 12 Veterans Admin., 749 F.2d 1386, 1388 (9th Cir.1984); see also Mayes v. Leipziger, 729 F.2d 605,
 13 607 (9th Cir.1984); Breier v. N. Cal. Bowling Proprietors' Ass'n, 316 F.2d 787, 789 (9th Cir. 1963).

14 Since no responsive pleading has been filed, Plaintiff has exercised his right to substantively
 15 amend his pleading once as a matter of course, and plaintiff's First Amended Complaint effectively
 16 moots defendants' pending motions to dismiss. Doe v. Lassen Community College Dist., No.
 17 07-CV-01521 LEW (DADx), 2007 WL 4623042, at *1 n.1 (E.D.Cal. Dec. 8, 2007) (filing an 18 amended complaint effectively mooted defendants' motions to dismiss); Gorman v. Wolpoff &
 19 Abramson, LLP, 370 F.Supp.2d 1005, 1007 (N.D.Cal. 2005) (technically plaintiff's first amended 20 complaint rendered moot defendants' motions to dismiss); Forsman v. Chicago Title Ins. Co., No.
 21 05-CV-3514-PHX-FJM, 2006 WL 4682253, at *1 (D.Ariz. Jan. 20, 2006) (denying, as moot, 22 defendant's motion to dismiss plaintiff's original complaint upon filing an amended complaint).

23 More specifically, Plaintiff London has included additional factual allegations in the First

24
 25 <sup>2</sup> Although served with the DOE Defendant Amendment, defendant Save Mart has neither
 26 joined in Albertson's and Cerberus' removal petition nor joined in their Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 12(b)(6)
 27 motions to dismiss.
 28

LONDON v. NEW ALBERTSONS, INC., et al.
Case No. 08-cv-1173 H-CAB

1 Amended Complaint to more concisely establish that Defendants' purported procedure and protocols
2 by which patient confidential medical information is "anonymized" was performed in an inadequate
3 and legally deficient manner, in that defendants' processes nonetheless allow for the reconstitution
4 of the patient's confidential medical information when combined with publicly and privately
5 available information in violation of the CMIA. Further, Plaintiff has included additional factual
6 allegations (principally facts appearing in defendant Albertson's public filings with the Securities
7 and Exchange Commission) establishing Cerberus' ownership and control of Albertson's Pharmacy
8 operations and contractual assumption of liability for some or all of the activities alleged in this
9 lawsuit to be improper.

10 III. CONCLUSION

11 On the basis of the foregoing, and in light of the fact that defendant Albertson's and 12 Cerberus' motions to dismiss are now moot, plaintiff London respectfully submits that they be 13 denied on that basis.

14 Dated: July 28, 2008

Respectfully submitted,
